

THE LATEST IN FASHIONS

A ROSE-RELIEVED BLACK HAT.

The contour of the coiffure is faithfully followed in the outline of the upturned brim of this black chip hat which is of that moderate size which many women insist upon wearing no matter to what extremes Dame Fashion may go. The crown of the hat, narrow and curving, is almost entirely covered by a pair of black willow plumes which spring from beneath a half wreath of pale pink, half-opened roses. The rose satin blouse, hand-embroidered in self-tone, has draped half-sleeves supplemented with black satin mousquetaire cuffs.

A MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER.

The Misses Alice Bump and Ethel and Edith Shearer were hostesses last evening at one of the pleasantest parties of the season at the home of Miss Bump in East State street. The entertainment was given in honor of the approaching marriage of Miss Louise Waite, formerly of Hammond but now of Grand Crossing, Ill., and Mr. Will Howard of Washington, Iowa. The young ladies entertained at a miscellaneous shower, which was kept as a surprise for Miss Waite and Mr. Howard. At an early hour the guests began to arrive at the home and met pleasantly in the parlors for games and music. Various games and contests had been prepared by the hostesses for the entertainment of their guests, who numbered about twenty-five. The principal diversion of the evening was the Spider Web. Streamers of red baby ribbon were stretched from the chandelier to various parts of the room where they were hidden. At the ends of the ribbon were attached the gifts to Miss Waite and there were many very pretty and useful ones. The contest continued for nearly an hour after which a large umbrella was brought in and presented to Mr. Will Howard. It was suggested that he open it, and it was found to contain many gifts to him from the young men of the party. The remainder of the evening was spent informally with various social diversions until a late hour, when a luncheon was served. The guests were seated at six small tables in the parlors and served with a dainty two-course luncheon. The place cards were hand-decorated, the hostesses choosing a red heart pierced by a white arrow as their design. The tables had center-pieces of red carnations and ferns and the flowers were given the guests as favors. In the parlor decorations, the same attractive colors were chosen and the lights were shaded with red crepe paper and festoons of hearts were suspended in the archways and draped from the chandeliers to the four corners of the room. Bunches of red and white carnations concluded the decorations. The guests were the members of the A. D. Q.'s, of which Miss Waite is a member, and a few invited friends, and were as follows: Misses Louise Waite of Grand Crossing, Ill., Stella Hoffman of Ottumwa, Ia., Ella Ketchum, Edna Switzer, Ethel Hoffman, Iva Simcoe, Gertrude Jones, Sadie Bates, Alice Bump and Ethel and Edith Shearer, Messrs. Will Howard and Henry Shields of Washington, Ia., Theodore Moor, John Meyer, George Suppes, George Rosenberg, Ed. Lewman, John Henderson, C. J. Ewing and Fred Hageman.

The gentlemen's prizes were won by Mr. Charles Luthman, Mr. C. A. Peterson and Mr. E. W. Anderson. The prizes were very pretty and useful. At the close of the games, the guests formed for a grand march and went to the banquet hall, where a three-course supper was served. The guests were seated at two long tables. Large bunches of cut flowers and ferns were chosen for center-pieces and other decorations consisted of festoons of red, white and blue bunting. Flowers were given the guests as favors at the table. The remainder of the evening was spent in informal dancing until a late hour when the guests departed, after extending Mr. and Mrs. Peterson their best wishes and congratulations.
